Surviving The SELF by Tom Jones

May Sarton once said: "We have to dare to be ourselves, however frightening or strange that self may prove to be." Tom Jones, a true survivor in every sense will share his personal story growing up in inner city East St. Louis, Illinois, overcoming poverty, gang violence, divorce, bankruptcy to becoming a well educated, well travelled, successful business management consultant that is a community leader dedicated to bringing hope to those without. Tom has been assigned to United Nations, and worked for Environtest Systems, Systems Control, Greenseat Solutions, is a current international director on the board for Toastmasters International. He will share valuable life lessons and specific action to take to help you move from fear to hope and into action.
